HON. JOSEPH B. SNYDER

We present herewith the photo of a man we all know, and many of us have learned to love. Mr. Snyder has served us since 1919, as our Commonwealth's Attorney, and has made a record that any one may be proud of, and few men has made the record he has made in the way he has made it.

Mr. Snyder has always made a fearless officer, and has done it in a way that he has made friends instead of enemies. When he first came to our county as Attorney for the Commonwealth the dockets were crowded with felonies and misdemeanors, there were bootleggers and blind tigers all over the county, and to hear of murder and theft was common, and today there are only two homicides on our dockets.

Mr. Snyder is before the people for re-election and will make the race in that clean high toned way that is in keeping with his splendid character. It is but fair that he should be elected again, as he is well qualified for the place, and is better qualified now than when he was first elected. He is seeking the Republican nomination, and his official announcement will appear in the columns of the Advocate next week, he enters the race to win, and will let no grass grow under his feet; he has a large string of kinspeople in Knox and Whitley counties and is well known in McGrenry.

A CARD OF THANKS

To our friends and neighbors who were so willing in their efforts to lighten our burden of grief during the long illness and death of our loved one, for the sympathy, love and consolation tendered us, for the many acts of kindness, and for the beautiful floral remembrances we are sincerely grateful.

J. D. Faulkner and family,
Mrs. L. H. Faulkner.

THE BOND ISSUE VS. THE OLD WAY

Good Roads vs. Bad Roads

Yes, I am for the bond issue. By it we get something real when we pay our taxes. Moreover, the State proposes to and will give us one half of this amount, or $100,000, to assist us in building roads. Why, then, should we refuse this aid from the state?

The Knocker

We are all interested in building good roads. The opportunity is here; the State will put up a dollar every time we put up one. Let the knocker think of this when he opens his mouth to oppose the bond issue, and ask himself the question: Is it right to deny this county the opportunity to get $100,000 given to it as a free gift from the State to help us build good roads? The man who is so unpatriotic and so opposed to the welfare of his county and people as to oppose a step of this sort should emigrate.

The Taxes

To obtain good roads, it is not a question of more taxes; the bond issue is not a question of more taxes with which to build the roads, but a question of whether the people shall get something real lasting beneficial and substantial for the taxes they are now paying, and have their burden lightened by getting from the State a real gift of $100,000, given them for the purpose of aiding in building good roads. The bond issue will not increase your taxes one cent.

Under the present system of building roads and making road improvements, which is fact, is no system at all, the people of the county pay an annual tax of twenty cents on the one hundred dollars of property to be used in building roads, and five cents additional to the State to go into State road fund, and get nothing in return as the present condition of the roads amply proves; while under the bond issue, you will pay annually the same tax—20¢ on the $100 to the county and 5¢ on the $105 to the State for road purposes and have the sum of $200,000 with which to build good roads all over the county. But if we do not issue these bonds we get no benefit from the tax paid to the State road fund; and if the bond issue is authorized, we get back from the State $100,000 to supplement the tax we have to pay for road purposes. Why, then, should we not take advantage of the gift from the State and make each dollar we pay in taxes for road purposes equal two?

An Apt Illustration in Connection With the Bond Issue

If a man has $500 to invest in building a home, and another man comes along and says: "My friend, if you will build a house that will cost $1000—a much better house, more convenient and better adapted to your needs—I will give you $500 to enable you to build the better house." Would that man refuse the offer and become the laughing stock of his acquaintances, or would he accept the offer and thereby get a better home, one worth $1000 instead of one worth $500? The answer is apparent. And that is exactly the road situation. Here we are in the mud and mire, and not only proposing to pay this year the next year, and year in and year out $8,000 or $10,000 annually, which in a few years will amount to more than $100,000, in taxes to repair the present roads of the county as they have heretofore and up to this time have repaired (if it can be called repairing) and what have we but impassable mud holes for four months of the year and more—the money gone, the roads gone and nothing to show for it—and the State steps in and says: "You are wasting the money you pay from year to year in the effort to repair your dirt roads. If you will build good roads, I will pay one-half of all the cost to build them, and your taxes will be one cent more than it is now but you will have good roads for the same taxes you now pay and which you can use the year round with no mud holes to pull through." Will you accept State aid and have good roads, or do you prefer the old way and pay your taxes any way and continue the mud hole route?

The Result of the Bond Issue

What will be the result if the people endorse the bond issue? Let us see:

1st—Good roads all over the county the year round.

2nd—Prosperity and the upbuilding of the county.

3rd—No more "wandering" the militia to bring their tools and work the roads under the call of the overseer.

4th—The laborer will get employment and get pay for working on the roads.

5th—The farmer can get to market with the products of his farm the year round.

6th—It will lift the people out of the mud and give them the opportunity to attend church regularly, visit their friends and neighbors and enjoy and secure innumerable benefits and pleasures they are now denied.

7th—It will save the wagon and team; it will save the life of the people and to the wagon and team.

8th—It will cost the poor man nothing, but on the other hand will afford him work and aid him in making a living.

9th—The good it will do can not be estimated. Its advantages can not be calculated.

10th—The burden of taxation will be lightened because the State will pay one-half the cost.

Let us consider, therefore, just what good roads mean. Young men and women and women attending the colleges and schools in town who live in the country, could attend regularly and board at home. The people, the farmer, could attend to his business in town or in any section of the county quickly and easily, and without losing the time now required to cover only a few miles. Do the people want such advantages; if so, hustle for the bond issue. Every man who loves his county and wants to prosper and see his children and his neighbors children prosper and enjoy the advantages of life for good roads and bond issue. Let all the people get to thinking on this matter, and let's get together and make this bond issue unanimous. It ought to be, and will be if the people study the question.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

HON. WILLIAM CARSON BLACK

Hon William Carson Black On Good Roads
Before The Kentucky Legislature

Dr. Black will run on a platform which the Republican party in the State convention will adopt. He has previously to a declaration of principals he invites his friends to his past political and official record. He will "Hoe His Own Row," and will ask the cooperation of no clique or clan, but of all the people of the Republican faith, and all those friends of his who love to see him serve his party and district in the upper branch of the next General Assembly.

We published an article about Mr. Black a few weeks ago where we voiced the sentiment of some of his friends who wanted to see him honored with the nomination, and office, of Railroad Commissioner, but others of his friends are urging him to take up his first love—that legislative work—by asking his friends to give him the Republican nomination for State Senator, a personal ambition of Dr. Black since he represented this district in the Lower House and was its Minority Leader—the first and last of Mountain Republican legislators nominated for Speaker. He defeated two very strong and individual Republicans for the caucus nomination for Speaker in the person of ex-Chief Justice B. L. D. Guffy and ex-Lieut. Gov. W. J. Worthington and gave 11 of the 18 honorary nominations in the organization of the House to 11th District Republicans. He was elected from this the 69th district by a vote of about 7,000 over a petition opponent who received 60 votes.

Dr. Black acted in the capacity of Regimental Surgeon on the Second Kentucky State Guard during the Taylor-Goshel troubles and slept on the floor four months during those squally times. It was he whom General Colyar commissioned to come to London and Barbourville (received his military training at Central University) and return with the local Military companies from those towns under the Captaincy of Ed Parker and John L. Powers—this in March 1900. For his personal sacrifice at Frankfort, his party gave him the Legation nomination without opposition.

He has served as Campaign Chairman of Knox County Republican Committee, and a few years ago spent two months practically solid time without remuneration, as Vice-Chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee. He has given of his time, means and voice to the cause of Republicanism, and is of Kentucky:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney of this district. I am subject to the action of the Republicans in the Primary election to be held on August 7th, 1915.

R. S. Rose.

B. C. Lewis Candidate
For State Senator

Prof. B. C. Lewis, of Barbourville, candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator in this, the 17th Senatorial District, is a native of Laurel County. His paternal grand parents were Robt. Lewis, of Laurel county, and Bettie Logan, of Knox county; his maternal were Green Nun, of Bell county, and Parmelia Trisler, of Knox County. When he was seven months old his father died leaving his mother with two children and in straitened circumstances.

He was reared on the farm most of the time as a renter. When he was ten years of age the family moved to Bell county the home of his maternal grand father and resided there a few years, later moved to Knox county and back to Laurel county. He was educated in the Rural schools, Laurel Seminary, Corbin Academy and Union College.

Prof. Lewis began his career as teacher in the public schools of Laurel county, where he taught for three years. After this he located permanently in Knox County, where he has been engaged in school work most of the time since. He has had most all kinds of experience in school work;—in three months schools, four months, five months and six months schools; in the rural schools; village schools; mining town schools; city schools; in the public schools and private schools. After coming to Barbourville he served as Principal of the City School, and as Principal of the Baptist Institute, as County Examiner, and for the last ten years he has served as Principal of the Normal Department of Union College.

Besides his experience in school work and on the farm, he has also worked in the log woods, at the saw-mills, in the store, in the mines, and in the Civil Service for the government.

During his work with Union College he has part of the time traveled as field agent for the school in every county in the district excepting one. This, together with his traveling while in the Civil Service and in other respects, has given him an extensive acquaintance throughout the District.

While Mr. Lewis has not been a politician nor an office-seeker, yet he has all the while been a loyal Republican, believing that history has proven that Republican principles are necessary for the development and success of this country, and especially for the section included in Senatorial District. Being a school man, and a Church and Sunday School man, he would naturally be a Temperance or Prohibition man; and it was this issue which brought him into the race. Owing to the great fight now on with the Prohibition forces he believes with many others that this District should be represented in the General Assembly by Prohibition man, and he is willing to hazard a race to help in this fight. Coming as he does from the rural districts, and having traveled so extensively over the mountain counties at all seasons of the year he knows the condition of the roads and their needs, and would certainly do all he could to secure legislation for their improvement.

Being acquainted with conditions throughout the district as he is, such as the roads, the schools, the miners, the farmers, etc he would be qualified to render excellent service to the people of the District in the General Assembly, and with his extensive relationship, acquaintance, and qualifications, he will be a formidable candidate in this race.

To The Voters of Knox County.

In making my announcement as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney of the 34th Judicial District, of which Knox County is a part, I am asking the support of the voters of this county for the first time in my life. While I may not be a stranger to you as I have served you as such officer for more than four years, yet I came to your County by Legislative Act, and not by an election held in Knox County.

In 1909 I was elected Commonwealth's Attorney of the 26th Judicial District, which District was composed of the Counties of Whitley, Bell and Harlan. By act of the Legislature of 1910 the 34th District was created, and I became the Commonwealth's Attorney of the new 34th District, by reason of my residence therein. I accepted the provisions of the act and qualified thereunder, and have ever since been netting in the district.

I have labored for the enforcement of the law in your County, under adverse circumstances; in this, that the citizenship of Knox County and myself were strangers one to the other, and therefore, I was at sea as to the standing and reputation of jurymen, witnesses, and other people with whom I came in contact. But by the kindness and efficiency of the then County Attorney, W. R. Lay, and other lawyers, and people whom I did know, I have become and am now acquainted with a large portion of the citizenship of the County and am in better position to render the State and people a more efficient service than I have been able to do in the past in this County.

An inspection of the docket of the Knox Circuit Court for the first term that I prosecuted there will disclose a great number of murder isolated cases, of bott-legging; also cases of concealed weapons and shooting on the highway are of seldom occurrence. I do not claim the entire credit of this unprecedented condition, but the Court, Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors are also responsible for this moral awakening.

From information obtained, I found that a large portion of the citizens of the northern portion of the county were and had been for years harassed by an old outstanding land patent, known as the John Lewis 36000 acre patent, and as the owners of the patent, who resided in Boston, Mass. had not paid taxes thereon for a number of years, I filed a suit in the Knox Circuit Court to forfeit the entire title to this patent, and thereby clear up whatever clouds that it was causing on residence land. A judgment of the Knox Circuit Court was obtained forfeiting this title, but the Court of Appeals while reversing the judgment in the case; forced the owner to pay to the State and County nearly $5,000, yet my efforts in this case was to for the benefit of the citizens whose title was effected thereby.

Time and space will not permit a further enumeration of the efforts I have made for an enforcement of the law and for the betterment of the citizenship of the district. Suffice it to say that I hope the voters will consider my candidacy, and if my record during the tenure of office herein mentioned meets your approval, your support and support and votes will be greatly and ever-lasting appreciated.

Respectfully yours,
J. B. SNYDER.

W. C. Black For Senator

Dr. W. C. Black enters the race for the office of Senator of the 82 District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party; his formal announcement will appear in next weeks issue. He is well known all over the district, and has many admirers and we predict that he will very soon get busy, and that he will wage a strong fight for the nomination as he is a campaigner of the old school.

Lewis For Senator

Prof. B. C. Lewis, of this city, will enter the race for Senator of the 82nd, District of Kentucky. Mr. Lewis is now and has always been a Republican, and asks the nomination of his party for that place, his announcement will appear in the columns of this paper next week.

Judge Sampson Will Run

Altho Judge Sampson has not announced, it is generally conceded that he will be a candidate for the office of Judge of the 34th Judicial District of Kentucky, and it goes without saying that there is not a man in the district that has little enough sense to try to defeat him. He has given to the people the best service in the history of the district, he having tried more cases in less time than any Judge in Kentucky.

Mr. Richard S. Rose, of Williamsburg, announces his candidacy for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney in this issue. Mr. Rose is a native of Knox County, having been born and reared here and for many years a teacher in the public schools of the county and for sometime a practitioner of his profession in this county. He has many old acquaintances as well as relatives in this county and is well known. He enters this race to win, and asks his many friends to stand by him.

To the Editor of the Advocate
Dr. Black made the following comment on the Senatorial situation: "I am in this race to the end, and my face is set toward the front. Every legitimate effort will be made to secure the Senatorial nomination, and from assurances of support already tendered, I doubt not my success at the Primary by a handsome and decisive majority."

John Stewart Promoted

We are in receipt of information that John D. Stewart, formerly of Hopper, this county, has just been promoted to Police Sergeant, he has been a patrolman for some time on the Cincinnati Police force, and has made such good sufficient officer that he was promoted over many other fellows who were applicants. We congratulate Mr. Stewart, he is a deserving young man, and to know John is to love him.

French Fruit Salad.

One cupful of sugar, one pound seeded Malaga grapes, half a pineapple cut in cubes, two oranges cut in small pieces, and one tumbler sherry wine. If this is used as a dessert it may be served with a bottled custard, which is made by using one pint milk, half a cupful of sugar, three eggs, and half teaspoonful extract of vanilla. Place milk in a double boiler, beat up eggs and sugar and just as the milk is at the point of boiling, add the eggs, sugar and vanilla. Remove from fire and let it cool.

Judge Peter's Pudding.

Three-quarters of a boxful of gelatine, two oranges, two lemons, six figs, nine dates, ten almonds, five English walnuts. Dissolve gelatin in one pint cold water for one hour, add one-half pint boiling hot water, the juice of two lemons and one orange, and two cupfuls of sugar. Let stand until it begins to thicken; cut the fruit, nuts and other orange in small pieces, mix well with the jelly and pour in molds. Serve with whipped cream.

Light Rolls.

One pint of sweet milk warmed sufficiently to melt one tablespoonful of butter, add one tablespoonful of sugar and a pinch of salt. When the milk is lukewarm stir in one quart of flour and one cake of compressed yeast. Put in a warm place to raise. When light enough work down and raise again, then mold into shape, put into pans and when light rub the top with white of egg and bake.

Weight of One Cipher.

The case in the Irish courts of a telegram, in which the price per head to be given for nine calves was altered by a blunder from four pounds five shillings to five pounds five shillings, could easily be paralleled from the post office records.
"Among the elder telegraphists," according to F. E. Baines' "On the Track of the Mail-Coach," "a tradition lingers of a telegram having been sent to Portugal or Spain, ordering 6,000 boxes of oranges. In the course of transmission an additional cipher crept in. . . . Fifty thousand boxes would require several steamers. The legend mentions ten vessels in all, which in due course were loaded and dispatched from Portugal, to the dismay of the consignees."

To Tell Good Bacon.

When bacon is good and sweet the lean is firm and bright and the fat quite white.

The Last Laugh

William Allen White's story "What's the Matter with Kansas?" in the Saturday Evening Post, has been, by this time, pretty thoroughly discredited. Many of the statements made by the gifted writer have been found to be inaccurate, and the major part of his arguments have been punctured until they are sear-like. Evidently the author is proud of Kansas, or wants people, especially Kansas people, to believe he is judging from his statements Kansas has drawn into its confines the double-distilled extract of everything that was good; thrust out every atom of badness and then built a high fence around a little "Heaven-on-earth."

He boasted about the big crops of Kansas, the per capita wealth of Kansas, the number of automobiles in Kansas and almost succeeded in making everyone believe that Kansas was wholly rich as well as richly holy. But he over did it. And his home town, Emporia, is the goat. For years the College of Emporia has been largely supported by means of donations from wealthy easterners, who imagined they were assisting "a poor little college on the windswept prairies." When these rich patrons read Mr. White's clever but misleading article they withdrew their subscriptions. This year the College of Emporia must "look to home" for the annual donation of $200,000 which used to come out of the East. Washburn College, originally a Congressional school, has been, from the beginning, supported by the generosity of wealthy members of that sect living in New England. She too has been told that she must look elsewhere for her $200,000 annual donation and that a rich state like Kansas ought not to go begging for her institutions.

So "Bill" White is not as popular in Emporia as he was the week after "What's the Matter with Kansas?" was published.

Healdsburg, Calif.—A remarkable fall from the heavens of meteoric floss took place here recently. The floss ranged in size from tiny specks to sheets 20 feet square.

Some folks must have piano music or they ain't healthy, but I had sooner go fishing at night and listen to the mellow music of the bullfrogs, than listen to a majority of piano smashers. In fact if I was rich, I would buy about five acres of swamp land and plant it in bullfrogs and start every blessed one of them to playing instrumental music as soon as they were old enough to sit alone.

FOREST NOTES.

Although there were an unusual number of forest fires on the national forests of Oregon and Washington this year, the loss of merchantable timber has been relatively small. The propellers of aeroplanes such as are used in the present European war may be made of selected ash, which is both strong and light and will not split under vibration or shock, or of built-up layers of spruce with mahogany centers. The framework of the machines, too, is generally made of wood, spruce being much used on account of its straight grain and freedom from hidden defects. A surprisingly large number of substances, ranging all the way from the condensed fumes of smelters to the skimmed milk of creameries, have been tried or suggested as means of preserving wood from decay. Most of them, however, have been found to have little or no value for the purpose. Certain forms of coal-tar creosote and zinc chloride are the most widely used wood preservatives. It is said that the German invaders of Belgium, whatever else they may have destroyed, have been careful not to injure park trees. The cavalymen, so a report goes, are forbidden to tie their horse to trees for fear that the animals will gnaw the bark. Germany was the crown forest having been under scientific management for over a hundred years.

OBITUARY

On Thursday evening, shortly after five o'clock, God, in his infinite wisdom, called from this earth the soul of Lewis Huston Faulkner. Death came to him, as we must believe, as a great relief, for Lewis had suffered more than his lot of the ordinary sojourner here on this earth. More than one year ago he was stricken with Pneumonia fever, from the effects of which he never fully recovered, although he left his sick bed and was again able to go about his duties supporting his family, but on March third of last year he was again stricken with fever—this time Typhoid, and on that day he was confined to his bed from which he never rose again. For more than ten months—ten months and eleven days to be exact—he suffered until a merciful God saw fit to call him to his own kingdom on January fourteen.

We have known Lewis Huston Faulkner since his childhood. He was one of the most pleasant, jovial and kindhearted men who ever lived. All who knew him were his friends; he had no enemies; and his friends were legion. His brave and tender heart is now forever stilled, but his genial smiles, the warm handshake, the kindly greeting and his many acts of unselfishness and forbearance, as well as his great suffering through the long months of his illness are indelibly fixed upon the memory of his friends. It happens to be the writers privilege to know that Lewis was prepared to meet his Maker, and almost his last intelligible words were "I see Him. I know Him."

He was born on the twenty-first day of November, 1883, and departed this life on the fourteenth day of January, 1915, being at the time of his death aged thirty one years, one month and twenty four days. His parents were James D. Faulkner and Rebecca Faulkner, who are among the best known and most highly respected citizens of our county. On October twenty seven, 1901, he married Clara Sawyers, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. E. E. Sawyers. Of this union four children were born—Margaret, Leola, Glenn, and Lois—three girls and one boy, the eldest of whom is less than twelve years of age. Besides his wife, his children and his parents he is survived by three brothers—W. D. Faulkner, of Wood, Kentucky; George T. Faulkner of this city, and D. H. Faulkner of Varilla. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. For nearly eight months of his sickness his devoted wife watched and waited by his bedside, with such strength, fortitude and patience as is not many women called upon to do, and we all know that all that human aid and human love could do to save him from death was done, but it was God's will that he be taken not our will. This should be the consolation of the bereaved wife and parents. And to this wife and to his parents as well as to his infant children and to his brothers. The Advocate extends its heartiest sympathy for their infinite and irreparable loss, and its memory will be kept alive in the mind of his many friends.

Triumph of Mutes.

It was but the other day when the triumph of the deaf and dumb faced me. It was a ship just starting from Southampton to Canada. You know the unheard shouts during the last hour from the shore. There were two men, deaf and dumb, talking quietly with their fingers to the brother on board, who could reply. They were the only three that could talk freely among the unheard tumult—London Chronicle.

Gunpowder and Dynamite.

While both gunpowder and dynamite are explosives, they fall into different structural classifications. Gunpowder is a nitrate mixture, whereas dynamite is a nitro compound—that is, the former is a combination of nitrogen solution mixed with other ingredients, and the latter is a compound of nitro-glycerin absorbed by a porous inert solid material.

HOW TO GET STATE AID

Counties may obtain state aid for road building through several different channels. The county may raise the money to meet the funds available from the state by two methods: viz: by general taxation, and by bond issues. In either case the county's funds and the state's funds or both may be supplemented by donations from corporations or private citizens, provided such donations are paid in cash to the treasurer of the county or state.

Since the state is to aid in the building of these roads and since the counties' funds in most instances are very limited for construction or reconstruction it is only just and fair that those living along the line of a road to be improved and who receive the direct and greatest benefit accruing from said improvement shall aid in bearing the expense of each improvement in proportion to the benefits derived therefrom. And since the state is to pay one-half the cost, the ratio should be—state fifty per cent, county 25 per cent and abutting property owners and the private subscriptions the other 25 per cent. Most certainly the abutting property owners and private subscriptions should amount to not less than 15 per cent. In the latter event the county would have to pay 35 per cent of the cost. The county in no instance should be required to pay for right of way.

Pulaski and Rockcastle counties and several others have requested state aid for the improvement of certain inter-county roads, stating to the abutting property owners that the county will put up $5,000, provided said property owners and other citizens of the county will put up another $5,000 and have requested that the work be done under plans and specifications of the State Department of Public Roads and in accordance with the State Aid Road Law. This would in general insure $20,000 worth of road work for the county. However, this depends on the number of applications for state aid and the amounts requested.

Few counties are so fortunate as Jefferson, Shelby, Campbell and Kenton as to be able to ask for all the state aid fund that they will be entitled to receive, and to be able to appropriate the necessary money from their road fund to meet state aid without impairing or totally destroying their general maintenance fund. In no instance should the maintenance be overlooked.

The roads to receive state aid are the inter-county seat roads, and after such roads have been improved then such other roads as may be designated may be improved, but to build a comprehensive system such as is outlined by this law, will require ten years with national aid and without it fifteen or twenty years.

A county wishing to secure the completion of this comprehensive system at an early date can do so by assuming the cost of such a system through the issuance of bonds. Usually the county's road fund and therefore the state's portion of the county is so small that only a few miles can be built in one year, but by means of a bond issue a system may be completed at less expense because a larger amount of work may be accomplished in a comparatively short time and the roads may be used while they are being paid for by the citizens of the county and commonwealth. The state will reimburse the county for such work done in accordance to the state aid law, to the extent of one-half the amount of money actually spent on construction or reconstruction of roads, payment being made annually as the county's portion of the road fund is available.

Two counties have thus far availed themselves of this means of securing good roads, viz: Lewis and Carter. The voters of Lewis county approving the bond issue for $150,000 on the 11th day of July by a vote of 2,100 yeas to 140 nays. The voters of Carter county, on November 3d, ratified a bond issue for $150,000 for the improvement of their roads by 307 more votes than the necessary two-thirds majority required to carry the issue.

In every other instance where a vote has been taken for a bond issue, a majority of the votes cast have been in favor of said issue, thus showing conclusively that a majority of the thinking people favor the improvement of their roads by rapid and up-to-date methods.

These statements are corroborated by the result shown from such elections held in the following counties: Mason, November 3rd, $200,000; Campbell, November 3rd, $150,000 to build roads, $100,000 to buy toll roads; Kenton, November 3, $200,000; Boone, November 3, $75,000; Pulaski, April 24, and again on June 26th, $300,000; Warren, May 19th, $300,000; Simpson, May 2, $100,000, and Menifee, September, $35,000.

Unfortunately, however, for the promotion of road building, the Constitution requires that two-thirds of the votes cast on a bond question shall be in favor of the same before it shall be declared carried.

Every county in the Commonwealth should follow the example of Lewis, Lawrence, Carter, Johnson, Madison, Boyd, Rockcastle, Shelby, Warren, Jefferson, Harrison and Logan counties by applying for state aid. No county is too rich—as has been shown by Jefferson county's application—and no county is so poor that she cannot apply for and receive a portion of the fund on one of the three plans mentioned above. No county can afford to lose the money she is paying toward the state road fund or fail to accept the generous offer made by the state.

Success to the ADVOCATE.

known politically, commercially, socially, and personally in every precinct in this Senatorial District, and the same can almost be said of him throughout the State. For these reasons, Dr. Black would be a friend among friends in the General Assembly of Kentucky, and therefore, would not be a case of "Show Me" when it came to matters of legislation.

Some of the bills introduced and some of the legislation Dr. Black accomplished while at Frankfort are (and by the way he was the only Republican member of the House who got a single bill through, or was permitted to accomplish a thing for his constituency).

Dr. Black has the moving spirit in the organization of the Knox County Farmers' Institute in the summer of 1900, and was made Honorary President of same, which gratifying position he has ever held thereafter.

He put the people to talking Good Roads—its first apostle in a century—and he is the present member of the National Highway Association and the Kentucky Good Roads Association.

Introduced bill to pay teachers in attendance at county Institutes—a law and a just one too. Advocated, worked and voted for better common school laws. In this connection we are told that Dr. Black favors a State Normal for this section: the one at Bowling Green and Richmond overcrowded now.

Introduced bill creating office of railroad police—a law and a much needed protection to the traveling public, especially the mother and child. Also making it a felony to break into public places. Classifying Corbin in cities of the Fifth Class—now in the Fourth class. A bill for paying the heirs of the late R. H. Hubble, Representative from Paducah county. It became a law and his two daughters were given a commendable education from the money their father would have drawn as a legislator had he lived to serve his term. The Lincoln bill which provided for the purchase of the Thos. Lincoln homestead, near Hodgenville, and building of a monument to the memory of the Great Emancipator. Pulley and press took up the cue and resulted in a National Lincoln Memorial Association, the purchase of the farm and building of a memorial house to the honor of the Sixteenth President. The Broadwell Good Road bill introduced in the Congress which had it become a law—would have given Kentucky $400,000 of Federal aid, and Dr. Black in a joint resolution asked the General Assembly to introduce which it did, and Kentucky soon recorded its first vote for real progress in several decades.

By his Republican colleagues relying to his support, Chief Mine Inspector, Prof. C. J. Norwood of Lexington, gave him the credit for the passage of the bill which provided an appropriation of $15,000.00 for geological and mineral resource work in the State. Dr. Black was also commended for his vote for an increased appropriation to State College, now State University. His bill and first fight for temperance legislation, and for all bills, resolutions, and measures for the moral, educational, commercial, and economic advancement and enlightenment of the Commonwealth was the constant and energetic work of the Minority Leader of 1904 and 1905. It might not be amiss in passing to state that Dr. Black was the only Republican honored on the State Capital Committee (the only committee with work to do during the special session which lasted 30 days). The fruits of that special labor was a part in the bill which recommended a New State House on a new site. And his friends would have him occupy an official seat in the magnificent Capitol which he, of all Mountain men, had most to do shaping the legislation that made it possible for Kentucky to take such a step forward.

What the people want in the House and Senate from down this way are Republicans, men who can and will do something for their constituency, and men who are absolutely in sympathy with the wants and legislation of their people, and who know how to bring about such things.

Send Dr. Black to the Senate and, with his broad acquaintanceship and knowledge of legislation, he will make a record of which no man will regret because he knows how and has the ability and tact to bring about desired results.

Dr. Black recently retired as Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Kentucky Royal Arch Masons, and is at present Master of the local lodge of Masons, Chairman of the Barbourville Board of School Trustees, and a State Medical adjuster and agency organizer of the Transylvania Casualty Insurance Company, of which Dr. Ben L. Brainer is its President.

A copy from the House Journal of 1904 shows that he foresaw the needs of his people, and became one of the pioneers in this line of commercial and educational advancement.

Mr. W. C. Black offered the following resolution, viz:

Whereas, Hon. W. P. Brownlow, congressman from Tennessee, has introduced into Congress a resolution providing for an appropriation by the Federal Government of $24,000,000 to be distributed among the States of the Union according to their population for Federal co-operation in road-building, on condition that the States, counties and towns cede an equal portion to that which they receive from the Federal Government; and Whereas, should and bill become a law the State of Kentucky will receive its share $420,000; and
